FROM THE PORT FOLIO.

THE PILGRIM'S REST.

There is a place of sweet repose,
Life's wearied pilgrim's rest;
A calm retreat from all the woes
That racked his feeling breast.

Safe in that haven moored, at last,
Though madd'ning tempest rave,
His shattered bark heeds not the blast,
Life's storms reach not the grave.

Funeral of Skenandoh, the Oneida Chief,

WITH A SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

Died, at his residence near Oneida Castle N. Y. on Monday, the 11th inst. SKENADOH, the celebrated Oneida Chief, aged one hundred and ten years; well known in the wars which occurred while we were British colonies, and in the contest which issued in our independence, as the undeviating friend of the people of the United States. He was very savage, and addicted to drunkenness in his youth; but by his own reflections and the benevolent instructions of the late Rev. Mr. Kirkland, missionary to his tribe, he lived a reformed man for more than sixty years, and died in Christian hope.

From attachment to Mr. Kirkland, he had always expressed a strong desire to be buried near his minister and father, that he might (to use his own expression) "go up with him at the great resurrection." At the approach of death, after listening to the prayers which were read at his bedside, by his great grand-daughter, he again repeated this request. Accordingly, the family of Mr. Kirkland having received information by a runner that Skenandoh was dead, in compliance with a previous promise, sent assistance to the Indians, that the corpse might be conveyed to the village of Clinton for burial. Divine service was attended at the meeting-house in Clinton, on Wednesday, at 12 o'clock, P. M. An address was made to the Indians by the Rev. Dr. Backus, President of Hamilton College; which was interpreted by Judge Dean, of Westmoreland. Prayer was then offered and appropriate psalms sung. After service, the discourse which had assembled from respect to the deceased chief, or from the singularity of the occasion, moved to the grave in the following order:

Students of Hamilton College.
Corpse.
Indians.

Mr. Kirkland and family.
Judge Dean, Rev. Dr. Norton,
Rev. Mr. Ayer.
Officers of Hamilton College.
Citizens.

After interment, the only surviving son of the deceased self-moved, returned thanks through Judge Dean as interpreter, to the people, for the respect shown to his father on the occasion, and to Mrs. Kirkland and family for their kind and friendly attentions.

Skenandoh's person was tall and drawn, but well made; his countenance was intelligent, and beamed with all the indigenous dignity of an Indian chief. In his youth he was a brave and intrepid warrior, and in his riper years one of the ablest counsellors among the North American tribes. He possessed a strong and vigorous mind, and though terrible as the tornado in war, he was bland and mild as the zephyr in peace. With the cunning of the fox, the hungry perseverance of the wolf, and the agility of the mountain cat, he watched and repelled Canadian invaders. His vigilance once preserved from massacre the inhabitants of the infant settlement at Germanflats. His influence brought his tribe to our assistance in the war of the Revolution. How many of the living and the dead have been saved from the tomahawk and scalping knife by his friendly aid is not known; but individuals and villages have expressed gratitude for his benevolent interpositions, and among the Indian tribes he was distinguished by the appellation of the "White man's friend."

Although he could speak but little English, and in his extreme old age was blind, yet his company was sought. In conversation he was highly decorous, evincing that he had profited by seeing civilized and polished society, and by mingling with good company in his better days.

To a friend who called on him a short time since, he thus expressed himself by an interpreter:—

"I am an aged hemlock: the winds of an hundred winters have whistled through my branches; I am dead at the top. The generation to which I belong have run away and left me; why I live, the Great Good Spirit only knows. Pray to my Jesus, that I may have patience to wait for my appointed time to die."

Honored chief! His prayer was answered; he was cheerful and resigned

* In the year 1775, Skenandoh was present at a treaty made in Albany. At night he was excessively drunk, and in the morning found himself in the street, stripped of all his ornaments and every article of clothing. His pride revolted at his self-degradation, and he resolved that he would never again deliver himself over to the power of strong water.

to the last. For several years he kept his dress for the grave prepared. Once and again, and again, he came to Clinton to die; longing that his soul might be with Christ, and his body in the narrow house, near his beloved Christian teacher.

While the ambitious but vulgar great, look principally to sculptured monuments, and to niches in the temple of earthly fame, Skenandoh, in the spirit of the only real nobility, stood with his loins girded, waiting the coming of his Lord.

His Lord has come! and the day approaches when the green hillock that covers his dust will be more respected than the pyramids, the mausolea and the pantheons of the proud and imperious. His simple "turf and stone" will be viewed with affection and veneration, when their tawdry ornaments of human apotheosis shall awaken only pity and disgust.

Indulge my native land, indulge my tear,
That steals impassion'd o'er a nation's doom;
To me each twig from Adam's stock is dear,
And sorrows fall upon an Indian's tomb."

SIMPLICITY.—When the Aristippus returned from the court of Dionysius, he said to Diogenes, "If you knew how to flatter kings, you need not live on herbs." To which Diogenes replied, "If you know how to live on herbs, you need not flatter kings."

Origin of the vulgar saying, "See Paddy from Cork, with his coat buttoned behind."—When the famous partisan O'Loughlin was retreating before Lord Broghill, he suddenly halted, and ordered his men to turn their coats round, and button them behind, to put on their wigs the hind part before, and to reverse their cocked hats with the peak behind—"for then, my lads, (says he) while we are running away, the enemy will think we are marching up to them." The stratagem succeeded, but a new joke against the Irish was made out of it.

Dr. Robertson's

VEGETABLE NERVOUS CORDIAL, OR, NATURE'S GRAND RESTORATIVE

(Price one dollar and fifty cents.)

Is confidently recommended as the most efficacious medicine for the speedy relief and cure of all nervous complaints, attended with inward weakness, depression of the spirits, head ache, tremor, faintness, hysteric fits, debility, seminal weakness, gleet, and various complaints resulting from secret impropriety of youth and dissipated habits, residence in warm climates, the immoderate use of tea, the unskillful or excessive use of mercury, so often destructive to the human frame, diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, Fluor Alba, barrenness, &c. &c.

Under the denomination of nervous disorders, are included several diseases of the most dangerous kind, and are so various that a volume would hardly suffice to complete a description of them. It pervades, with its baleful influence, the whole nervous system, writhing the heart with inexpressible anguish, and exciting the most dreadful suggestions of horror and despair. To this demon have thousands fallen a sacrifice, in the direful transports of its rage.

The most common symptoms of its commencement are, weakness, flatulence, palpitations, watchfulness, drowsiness after eating, timidity, flashes of heat and cold, numbness, cramp, giddiness, pains in the head, back and oins, hiccup, difficulty of respiration and digestion, anxiety, dry cough, &c.

The Vegetable Nervous Cordial is also a great Antiscorbutic Medicine, and is of infinite service for purifying the blood, and curing those foul disorders of the skin which commonly appear in the form of Scurvy, Surfeit, Red Blotches, Carbuncles, Ulcers, &c. A dose of the Anti-Bilious Pills, taken occasionally with this medicine, proves of additional service in the aforementioned case.

Dr. Robertson's

INFALLIBLE WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES,

A medicine highly necessary to be kept in all families—price 50 cents.

SYMPTOMS.—The common symptoms of the Worms are, paleness of the countenance, at other times flushing of the face, itching of the nose and about the seat, straining and grinding of the teeth in sleep, swelling of the upper lip, the appetite sometimes bad, at other times voracious—looseness, disagreeable breath, a hard swelled belly, great thirst, the urine frothy and sometimes of a whitish color, griping or cholic pains, an involuntary discharge of urine, especially when asleep; frequent pain in the side, with a dry cough, and unequal palpitations to the heart, swoonings, cold sweats, palsy, epileptic fits, &c. &c.

Though numberless medicines are extolled for expelling and killing worms, none are equal in efficacy to Dr. Robertson's WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES, they are mild in their operation, and may be given to the youngest infant with safety.

Dr. Dyott's Anti-Bilious PILLS,

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers. Price 25 cents—large box 50 cents.

These Pills, if timely administered, will remove the causes which commonly produce the yellow fever, bilious fevers, ague and fever, cholic, pains, flatulencies, indigestion, costiveness, hypochondria and hysteric complaints, strangury, gravel, rheumatism and gout.

They are peculiarly serviceable in Female Disorders, and especially in the removal of those obstructions which are the great source of their complaints at certain periods, they possess this eminent advantage over most other purgatives, that while they operate gently they produce neither costiveness, debility, nor too great excitement, whenever there is a pre disposition to a disease, arising from marsh effluvia, a too copious use of ardent spirits, or a vitiated state of the bile, they are sure to relieve.

Dr. Dyott's Patent Itch Ointment;

For pleasantness, safety, expedition, ease and certainty, is infinitely superior to any other medicine for the cure of that most disagreeable and tormenting disorder, the ITCH—Price 50 cents per box.
