

POETRY.

THE CHILD OF SORROW.

Though clos'd in dark affliction's night,
Yet weep thou not sweet child of sorrow;

Though o'er thy head black tempests howl,
And mark thee with despair's dark furrow;

While in the darkest shades of woe,
Of Hope, sweet consolation borrow;

Or if that morrow darkly rise,
And thou art still immers'd in sorrow;

THE MARBLE CLUB.

The following institutes for a social establishment upon a new plan, were composed by the late lord Barrymore.

1. There shall be no more members admitted than the room will hold.
2. Resolved, that this amicable society
have two anniversary dinners every year.

3. Resolved, that if any one member has more sense than another, he is to be kicked out of the company.
4. Resolved, that any man who cannot tell his right hand from his left, after being asked three times, shall be denied the honors and privileges of this society.

5. Resolved, that no member of this society shall presume to eat garlic, unless it can be proved that he likes it better than any other vegetable.
6. Resolved, that no member shall marry until he comes to years of discretion,
and as that is a desperate hope,
it is recommended to all to live bachelors.

7. Resolved, that if any curate, being a member, build a church out of his own private pay, he is to be branded
as the out cast of policy and sent handcuffed to his diocese.

8. Resolved, that every man who is uglier than his neighbour, shall pay a fine of three pence monthly, to be expended in tobacco—unless his wife swears he is a better man than he appears to be.

9. Resolved, that every member who has two ideas, shall be obliged to give one to his neighbour.

HINTS TO HEADS OF FAMILIES.

1. Don't scold. If you do, your children
may dread, but they will not respect you.

2. Don't find fault with every trifle.
Admonition and correction, to be effectual,
must not be too freely used.

3. When you command or threaten,
do not waver. If your children find they can beat you, they will grow fond of triumph. Pretty sad times when young children govern their parents!

4. Never treat your children with false promises. It is teaching them bad tricks.

5. Be prompt and steady in your government. "Good government is much easier in practice than bad."

6. Do you wish your children to appear well in the world? Be not niggardly
in affording the means of information.

7. Do you wish them happy? Be careful you do not teach them vice by your example.

THE STUART FAMILY.

Great Britain can produce, in the royal line of Stuart, a race as steadily unfortunate as ever were recorded in history. Their misfortunes have continued with unabated succession, during 390 years.

Robert III. broke his heart because his eldest son Robert was starved to death, and his youngest son, James,
was made a captive.

James I. after having beheaded three of his nearest kindred, was assassinated
by his own uncle, who was tortured
to death for it.

James II. was slain by the bursting
of a piece of ordnance.

James III. when flying from the field
of battle, was thrown from his horse, and murdered in a cottage, into which he had been carried for assistance.

James IV. fell in Flodden Field.

James V. died of grief for the wilful
ruin of his army at Solway Moss.

Henry Stuart, lord Darnley, was assassinated, and then blown up in his palace.

Mary Stuart was beheaded in England.

James I. and IV. died, not without suspicion of being poisoned by lord Buckingham.

Charles I. was beheaded at Whitehall.

Charles II. was exiled for many years.

James II. lost his crown and died in banishment.

Queen Anne, after a reign, which, though glorious, was rendered unhappy by party disputes, died of a broken heart, occasioned by the quarrels of her favorite servants.

The posterity of James II. have remained wretched wanderers in foreign lands.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.

About four weeks ago Mr. John Bennett, a journeyman book binder in Frankford was bit by a mad dog. Three weeks elapsed before he experienced any symptoms of disease, when the sight of water began to affect him painfully; and very soon occasioned him to howl like a dog. Medical advice was called—consultation was held, and he overheard their conclusions—that he must be sent to the hospital the next morning, where he must die. On this he took his hoe, went into his garden, cleaned it out very neatly, and then told his wife that he knew he should not live to enjoy any thing in it, but hoped it might be useful to her. At night two neighbours set up with him some hours, when he seemed composed, and told them if they retired he tho't he could sleep, they left him. Soon after, his wife hearing a noise in the room, went to him. He was sitting up in bed. "Leave me," said he, "leave me instantly. I do not want to hurt you, but I fear I shall. Leave me." As she descended the steps he set up a most piteous howl. She hastened to her children and took them to a neighbour's. Soon after, she returned, he left his room, loaded his gun—went into the yard, and blew out his brains. He has left a wife and three children to mourn for him.

PERPETUAL MOTION.

From the Democratic Press. Agreeably to Mr. Redheffer's desire, the committee which he himself appointed, met by the adjournment this morning to examine his Perpetual Motion, but lo! the Machine was at rest—every thing except the tongue of Mr. Redheffer, which was constantly going in making excuses why the Machine was not going. &c. D.

From the Philadelphia Gazette.

This morning a majority of the gentlemen designated by Mr. Redheffer to examine his self-moving machine, assembled in the room allotted for that purpose. In the absence of Chief Justice Tilghman, Professor Patterson was called to the chair, and Joseph Hopkinson, Secretary, and upon motion, resolved, that Mr. Redheffer be requested to proceed. Mr. Redheffer appeared and proposed that a sub-committee from that body should be appointed to examine the construction of the machine. At the time we are writing this, the gentlemen were gradually withdrawing, disgusted with the attempt at imposture.

CINCINNATI, July 29.

British Insolence.—Several American vessels on Lake Erie have lately been boarded and searched from a British armed schooner lying off Amherstburgh. An American vessel has also been forcibly entered and searched by the British, within the waters of Put-in-Bay, in the country of Huron, in this state.

The Albany Argus states that a number of sailors passed thro' the city (some time since) destined for Lake Erie. They will assist John Bull in the search. Gaz.

Arrived at this port yesterday from Pittsburgh, the Steam Boat Despatch while lying at Pittsburgh, cargo on board, waiting for a rise of water to enable her to descend the river, she was unfortunately sunk by a storm in the night. Goods on board to a considerable amount, owned in this place, were much damaged.

The Steam Boat Despatch left this place on Friday last for Louisville.
